The area and boundary of the "Transport for London Road Network" (TLRN), also known as London's Red Routes. This is a set of polygons, split by London borough, showing the area of London's road network that is controlled by TfL, instead of each borough itself. These roads typically have lines on the side painted in red rather than yellow. Original source at http://roads.data.tfl.gov.uk/ (http://roads.data.tfl.gov.uk/). Up to date as of July 2017.
